Can MAYA22 USB be used with an iPhone / iPad?

original release: 2020-03-30 | ID: KB00295EN

MAYA22 USB is a 100% class compliant device and as such, it works with the iOS operating system of iPhone and iPad in principle. However there is no control panel app that allows you to change settings of the hardware like selecting the input, enable input monitoring, etc. - as a result, you cannot use it completely with an iPhone / iPad since there is no mechanism to control these functions in iOS.

Basically this means that you can only use class compliant audio devices with iOS that either have no switchable options or where all the options are switched on the hardware itself. You can consider our UGM192 or our U22 XT as alternative - they work 100% with iOS.
